DESCENDANTS OF HENRY MELCHIOR MÜHLENBERG.

ESCUTCHEON:—Sable, a lion rampant or, grasping in the dexter paw a sword proper, and in the sinister a wheel argent. CREST:—A demi lion as in the Arms.

Genealogical and heraldic works on the ancient noble families of Germany state that the von Mühlenbergs were recognized in times before the Thirty Years' War (1618-48) as among the old baronial families of the Empire; that they derive their origin from Ziracka, a prince of the Wendish and Sorbic tribes; that about the year 950 A. D. he was converted to Christianity; that he had his residence near the present Mühlberg, on the right bank of the Elbe River in the Merseburg district of Prussian Saxony. In the neighborhood of this town, Mühlberg, the electoral prince John Frederick, after an unfortunate battle, fell, April 24, 1547, into the hands of the Emperor Charles V. Mills (Mühlen in German) erected in that locality, gave name to the town, and subsequently also to the family reigning there, which increased and, in the course of time, acquired large possessions in Saxony, Austrian Silesia and other parts. In the escutcheon of the family were two wheels, and the members of it signed themselves "of the Mühlenberg." The ancestral prince was, as a vassal of the bishop of Naumburg, received into the nobility of Germany. His son Bonifacius, apparelled in a coat of mail, accompanied Emperor Otto (unfortunately our sources leave us in doubt as to which of the three Ottos) on an expedition to Italy, and was rewarded for his services with valuable privileges. Various members of the family made themselves eminent in war and peace, and in the beginning of the sixteenth century the family is still counted among the prominent and wealthy nobility. But, during the wars of the sixteenth century, and especially the Thirty Years' War, some of its branches died out, and others were, like many noble families, greatly reduced in circumstances. After the middle of the seventeenth century the name is no longer found on the roll of the nobles of the empire, and the family never made any attempt to have their title acknowledged and restored by the imperial court of heraldry at Vienna.

G.=Generation.

G. 1. NICOLAUS MELCHIOR MÜHLENBERG, d. 1723; m. Anna Mary Kleinschmid; d. 1747. She was the daughter of an officer in military service. He was a citizen and tradesman of Eimbeck, Hanover, Germany, and in the church register is called a "brewer" which simply means that he enjoyed the prerogative of a privileged class, but never made use of it. He is also introduced to us as a deacon in the church to which the family belonged. There is a tradition that the Mühlenbergs emigrated to Eimbeck from Bohemia. If this be so it is not risking too much in supposing that they belonged to the thousands who, because of their fidelity to evangelical principles, suffered persecution in that country.

The church records at Eimbeck, which antedate 1700, are very defective, and give no clue to the earlier history of the family. We know they had a number of children born to them, the first of whom may have been Ilse Mary, who is entered on the church register as having seen the light of this world on September 11, 1700, but not even the name of the mother is there given. A son was given the name John Arndt, which shows that John Arndt, the author of the renowned work, True Christianity, stood high in the estimation of the father. None of the name are now met in Eimbeck, but descendants on the female side appear to be still living there.

Nicolaus died suddenly of palsy, soon after the confirmation of his son, Henry Melchior Mühlenberg.

G. 2. HENRY MELCHIOR MÜHLENBERG, b. September 6, 1711; d. October 7, 1787; m. April 22, 1745, Anna Maria Weiser, b. June 24, 1727; d. August 23, 1802, daughter of Colonel Conrad Weiser and wife, Eva Anna. He was born at Eimbeck, Hanover, Germany, and received a thorough classical education, from his seventh to twelfth year in that town. At this age, 1723, he was confirmed a member of the Lutheran Church, his father dying soon after. From the spring of 1723 to the autumn of the following year, he continued his studies at the classical school of Zellerfeld, east of Eimbeck, under the guidance of Rector Rapel, A.M. On March 19, 1735, he was on the road to the University of Göttingen, established that year, and therefore one of its first students. Here the Rev. Prof. Oporin, D.D., took him into his house, made him his secretary, and did much toward moulding his character. Here he also gained the friendship of Herr von Münchhausen, high sheriff of Hanover, also that of the Count of Wernigerode. He here also came under the protection and care of Count Reuss, who was instrumental in originating what became later the Göttingen Orphan House. When he graduated in the spring of 1738, his friends, the Counts Reuss of Koestritz and Henkel of Poeltzig, had him appointed a teacher in the Orphan House at Halle. After some time spent at the University of Jena, he finally entered on his new duties. Here he obtained the friendship of Councillor Cellarius and Gotthilf August Francke, son of August Hermann Francke, founder of the institution, who decided to prepare him as a missionary to the East Indies. By mere chance this plan was disarranged and, instead, at the request of the Baroness von Gersdorf, the sister of Zinzendorf's mother, and a relative of Count Reuss, he became pastor, August 12, 1739, at Grosshennersdorf, situate in the eastern part of the present Saxony, not far from the Bohemian boundary, only a few miles south of Herrnhut, the central seat of Moravianism and headquarters of Count Zinzendorf.

Because of her great liberality in benevolent operations, which transcended her income, the Baroness von Gersdorf was obliged to sell her estate, in 1740, to Baron Charles G. von Burgsdorf. At the entreaty of his old friend Mühlberg remained with her until July, 1741, when, as he was about to pay a visit to his native place, he was greeted by the Baron von Gersdorf, brother of the baroness, who was engaged in diplomatic services, and had just arrived as a visitor. He made Mühlberg his companion on the route to Leipsic. Thence he went to Koestritz, to pay his respects to Count Reuss, and, at the suggestion of the latter, from there proceeded to Halle. During his visit to Koestritz a certain Baron von Brann had been staying there, who had heard about the condition of affairs at Grosshennersdorf, and, reaching Halle before Mühlenberg, most probably gave the Rev. Dr. Francke some information concerning his situation. This fully explains how it happened that when Mühlenberg arrived a few days later, Francke, at a supper to which he had invited him, offered him “a call to the dispersed Lutherans in Pennsylvania.” Without much deliberation Mühlenberg answered that if he could see in it the will of God he would go, and that he felt bound to go wherever Providence called him. This happened September 6, 1741. Thus in a moment, and with few words, was determined his career of a lifetime, from which emanated the mighty church in America which delights to call him its Patriarch.

Some months were spent in preparation, visiting friends, bidding farewell to his mother and family, and arranging all necessary details, so that it was not until April 14, 1742, he sailed from Helvoetsluys, Holland, for Harnich, England, which he reached, after a stormy passage, on April 16th, and at once proceeded to London, finally arriving safely, on the evening of April 17th at the house of Rev. Frederick Michael Ziegenhagen, D.D., court preacher at the German St. James Chapel, and residing in the district of Kensington. After a short but pleasant and beneficial stay in London, he took ship at Gravesend for his new field of labor. On June 13th, at 5 : 00 P. M. the anchor was weighed and the voyage began. It was not until September 23, 1742, he put his foot on the soil of the New World near Charleston, S. C.

In this vicinity he labored till November 12th, when he sailed for Philadelphia, arriving at his destination on Thursday, November 25, 1742, at 8:00 A. M., when his work may be said to have properly commenced. The immensity of this work can hardly be realized. He found his people occupying homes scattered miles apart, along roads constantly penetrating dense forests, the homes of wild beasts and betimes hostile Indians, and these homes covering a territory equal in size to that of a kingdom. Congregations were to be formed, supplied with pastors and made self-sustaining; these congregations must be gathered into Synods; the pure doctrine of the Evangelical Lutheran Church taught, and false doctrines excluded. Order and system must emanate from what was well nigh chaos. It was a herculean task and the more discouraging because, of necessity, it was that of laying the foundation. None but a man of God, filled with His Holy Ghost, would have attempted it or would have succeeded in it. How well he succeeded the present generation knows. To but briefly recapitulate his work in America would fill a volume alone. Fortunately it is, in general, well known and needs not to be rehearsed. For the purpose of this genealogy it only remains to call attention to the fact that a part of his very first work here was his taking charge, on December 12, 1742, of the congregation at the Trappe, Montgomery county, Penna. Here, on May 2, 1743, he laid the corner-stone of the old Augustus Church, in which its congregation worshipped for the first time on September 12th of the same year. Here, also, during the summer of 1745, with the assistance of his father-in-law, he built his home on the lot adjoining the church property, in which he lived much of his time, and in which eight of his eleven children were born. It is still standing, although remodelled in 1851.

In 1784 he was given the Degree of Doctor of Divinity by the University of Pennsylvania.

His last pastoral act was the baptizing, on September 29, 1787, of a child of John Frey, of Providence, Montgomery County.

During the year 1787 his health was constantly failing until on October 2d he realized his end was drawing near. He expected to die at midnight, and, shortly before that time, at his request, two of his children took him to bed. There reclining, he recited the last verse of Paul Gerhard's immortal hymn, Befiehl du deine Wege, etc. :

“Haste Lord, to end our sorrow,
Our feeble hands support;
Each day and each tomorrow
Be Thou our soul's resort.
May we to Thy great mercy
Till death commended be,
Then shall our earthly footsteps
Us safely lead to Thee.”

Having finished this verse, he once more took a deep breath, and then quietly fell asleep in Jesus, between twelve and one o'clock on Sunday morning, October 7, 1787.

His body lies buried beside the old Augustus Church at the Trappe, covered by a large marble slab, on which, besides his name, birth and death are cut these words in Latin:—

“Who and what he was future times will know without a monument of stone.”

“Qualis et quantus fuerit
non ignorabunt sine lapide
Futura Saecula.”

G. 3-1. JOHN PETER GABRIEL MUHLENBERG, b. October 1, 1746; bap. October 14, 1746; d. October 1, 1807; married November 6, 1770, to Anna Barbara Meyer, b. 1751; d. October 27, 1806. He was born at the Trappe, Montgomery county, Pa. At the age of sixteen, with his younger brothers, Frederick Augustus and Henry Ernestus, he was sent to Halle for education. Not liking the discipline of the institution he ran away and enlisted in a German regiment,¹ from which he was extricated with difficulty, by a British officer who recognized him as an American acquaintance and took him back to that country as his Secretary. His father then completed his education. Having been prepared for the ministry of the Swedish Lutheran Church, which requires Episcopal ordination, he went to England in 1772, with the late Bishop White, then also a candidate for holy orders, where they were ordained together in the priesthood by the Bishops of London and Ely. After a short engagement in New Jersey he fixed his residence in Virginia, in charge of several parishes in Dunmore county. During the agitation preceding the Revolution he was an active Whig and was sent as a delegate to the House of Burgesses. At the outbreak of the War, Washington, who knew his worth, urged him to take a military command, and he accepted the Colonelcy of the Eighth Virginia Regiment which was tendered him. Ascending his pulpit for the last time he preached upon the duties men owe their country. In the course of this sermon he told his hearers that "there was a time for all things—a time to preach and a time to fight—and that now was the time to fight.” The sermon finished he pronounced the benediction. Amidst the breathless silence of his congregation he deliberately removed the clerical gown which had hitherto concealed the uniform beneath, and stood before them a girded warrior. He immediately ordered the drums to beat for recruits and nearly three hundred men of his frontier churches took up arms under him. This occurred about the middle of January, 1776. His first campaigns were in Georgia and South Carolina and, at the Battle of Sullivan’s Island, he proved that he fully merited the good opinion of his commander-in-chief. On February 21, 1777, he was promoted to Brigadier General and ordered North. At the Battle of Brandywine, September 11, 1777, his and Weedon’s brigade gallantly bore the brunt of the action. On October 8th, at the Battle of Germantown, having advanced into the town further than the other troops, a British officer seized a musket and fired at him; whilst in the act of reloading and directing his soldiers “to pick him off,” the General, drawing a pistol, shot him dead on the spot. In 1778 he was at the Battle of Monmouth; commanded the reserve at the storming of Stony Point, 1779; when Leslie invaded Virginia in 1780, he was opposed to him with the chief command; he acted under Baron Steuben against Benedict Arnold, and, when Cornwallis entered Virginia, was next in command to Lafayette. At the Siege of Yorktown he commanded the First Brigade of Light Infantry which furnished the American division of the troops that carried the British redoubts by assault, he leading them. He was promoted to Major General on September 30, 1783. Some months after the army was formally disbanded and he returned to his family at Woodstock, Virginia. He became a member of the Society of the Cincinnati.

Upon his return to civil life he removed to Pennsylvania and was immediately elected a member of the Supreme Executive Council of that State. In 1785 he was chosen Vice-President of the Commonwealth, Dr. Franklin being President, and was reelected to the same office the two following years. He was a member of the 1st Congress of the United States, 1789-91, the 3d Congress 1793-95, the 6th Congress 1799-1801; was elected United States Senator, February 18, 1801, but resigned a few months after taking his seat; appointed, by Jefferson, June 30, 1801, Supervisor of Internal Revenue for the State of Pennsylvania; appointed, July, 1802, Collector of the Port of Philadelphia, which office he retained until his death, which occurred near the city of Philadelphia, from an affection of the liver, on October 1, 1807. His remains rest beside those of his father, in the Augustus graveyard, Trappe, Pa. The epitaph is:—

“Sacred to the memory of General Peter Muhlenberg, Born October 1, 1746. Died October 1, 1807.

He was brave in the field, faithful in the Cabinet, honorable in all his transactions, a sincere friend and an honest man.”

d. March 9, 1809. An eminent Lutheran divine. He received his theological education at the University of Halle, and was, for a few years, one of the instructors in the Orphan House and scholastic institutions of that place. Having received the call to Pennsylvania through Dr. G. A. Francke and Dr. Ziegenhagen, he was ordained at Wernigerode before departing, by way of Hamburg and London, for America, where he arrived October 24, 1765. He was a man of very commanding appearance; as a preacher he was acceptable, and as a catechizer without a superior. When, in 1769, J. N. Kurtz was called to York, Schulze was elected his successor at Tulpehocken, Berks county, Pa., in which vicinity he labored until his death occurred. The First Tulpehocken (or Reed) Church, the oldest in the Lebanon Valley, stands on a small knoll, just a little east of Stouchsburg. The present building, a plain stone edifice, bears in its western wall a stone with this inscription: "Die Zions Kirche Erbaut in Jahr 1837." The original building was of hewn logs, with roof of thatch or tiles, erected in 1727. Owing to the troubles which arose, in its early history, from the administration of Moravian clergymen, in 1742 a new, and purely Lutheran church was erected about a mile west of the former edifice and called Christ Lutheran Church. This first church was also, probably, of logs, replaced, in 1786, by a fine stone structure. In 1747, through the influence of Conrad Weiser and Henry Melchior Mühlenberg, the original (Zion's or Reed's) congregation was again brought back to the Lutheran fold. It was as pastor of Christ Church that Rev. C. E. Shulze labored from 1770 to 1809, and in its graveyard, beside the body of his wife, rest his remains. On the tombstone is cut this inscription:

“Hier Ruhet Christoph Immanuel Schulze, Prediger, war geboren den 25 December 1740, Saatfeld in Sachsen.

Im Ehestand lebte Er mit seiner Ehefrau

Eva Elizabeth 43 jahr, als Prediger stand er

Schaefer, a Philadelphia sugar refiner and member of the vestry of Zion's Philadelphia congregation.

He was born at Trappe, Montgomery county, Pa., and thoroughly educated at the University of Halle, Germany. Ordained a Lutheran clergyman October 25, 1770. From a remote country congregation he was called to take charge of one in the city of New York. Here his piety, education, eloquence and polished manners speedily gave him a reputation, but because of his ardent Whig principles and pronounced patriotism, he was obliged to flee when the British occupied that city. He then assisted his father in Pennsylvania, but, because of his marked patriotic devotion, on March 2, 1779, the Legislature of Pennsylvania elected him a delegate to the Continental Congress, and, in the next year, renewed that honorable appointment, when he became ineligible to Congress for the ensuing three years. He was, however, immediately sent to the State Legislature from Philadelphia, and made its Speaker. In 1787 he was elected a delegate to the State Convention, called to consider the Constitution of the United States and act upon its ratification. He was made President of this body. Elected a member of the First Congress 1789-91, he became the first Speaker of the United States Congress. He served during the whole of Washington's Administration, being called to the Speakership a second time by the third Congress. Shortly after leaving Congress he was appointed, by Governor Mifflin, Register of the Land Office, in which he was continued by Governor McKean until his decease. He lies buried at Trinity Lutheran Church, Lancaster, Pa.

G. 5-1. WILLIAM AUGUSTUS MUHLENBERG, D.D., b. 1796; d. April 8, 1877. Single. He was born at the corner of Third and Cherry Streets, Philadelphia, Pa. Baptized a Lutheran by Dr. Helmuth. The prevalent use of the German language, in that church, which the children did not understand, was the reason why they were permitted by their mother to attend the Episcopal Church. After a while a Lutheran minister, Rev. Philip Meyer began to preach in English, when Mrs. Muhlenberg desired them to go with her there, but the services were held in a Hall, without any of the attractive accompaniments of worship to which they were accustomed in Christ Church, and the change was not an agreeable one. An accidental occurrence, at this time, confirmed the boy's wishes and took him out of his father's denomination. In the spring of 1806 the vestries of Christ Church and St. Peter's decided to erect a church in the neighborhood of Seventh and Market Streets to accommodate the growth of the city. For this purpose a lot was purchased belonging to Mrs. Muhlenberg and, on June 10, 1807, the corner-stone of St. James Church was laid. A part of the consideration, besides the purchase money paid, was a large double pew in the middle aisle to be for the use of the family. This, and the proximity of the new church to their dwelling, brought about their attendance at the same.

He entered the University of Pennsylvania from which he graduated in 1815; ordained a minister of the Protestant Episcopal Church in 1817. About January, 1821, he became the pastor of St. James Church, Lancaster, Pa. In 1824-26 he wrote the hymns, "I would not live alway," "Like Noah's Weary Dove," "Saviour, who thy flock art feeding," and, perhaps "Shout the glad tidings." In 1827, he began the establishment of a Christian and Church School for the education of boys—Flushing Institute and St. Paul's College. In his fiftieth year he began his work in the City of New York by founding there the Church of the Holy Communion; in 1845 he organized the first Protestant Sisterhood in the United States, and started many charitable institutions which culminated in the great St. Luke's Hospital. In 1866 he undertook the last great work of his life, the establishment of a Christian rural community where the worthy poor might escape from the horrors of New York tenement life. He bought an estate in New Jersey, now comprising an area between five and

G. 3-5. GOTTHILF HENRY ERNESTUS MUHLENBERG, b. November 17, 1753; bap. December 4, 1753; d. May 23, 1815. He was thoroughly educated at Halle, Germany, with his brother, Frederick Augustus, and, with him, ordained a Lutheran clergyman in the city of Philadelphia on October 25, 1770. He was the only one of the three brothers who served steadfastly in the ministry until the day of his death. After laboring in Philadelphia, New Jersey, etc., he was on April 5, 1774, elected the third regular pastor of the Philadelphia congregations. His outspoken loyalty to the Congress necessitated his flight, when Philadelphia was captured by the British to escape the vengeance of the Tories. For the several years following, being temporarily without a charge, he devoted himself entirely to scientific pursuits, in the departments of botany and mineralogy, and became one of the foremost botanists in the country. With such habits he could not be expected to take an active, personal part in politics. In 1780 he was called to the pastorate of Trinity Lutheran Church, Lancaster, Pa., where he labored faithfully until his death, and in whose graveyard his body lies buried. G. 4-3. HENRY AUGUSTUS PHILIP MUHLENBERG, b. May 13, 1782; d. August 11, 1844. Born in Lancaster, Pa.; studied theology in New York City with his uncle, the eminent Rev. Dr. Kunze. In 1802 having been licensed to preach, he accepted the charge of Trinity Lutheran Church, Reading, Pa., which he served with great faithfulness and ability until 1827, when his impaired health obliged him to give up the ministry. Having finally yielded to the wishes of the people, he was elected a member of the 21st Congress. He served for nine years with distinction in that body. Candidate for Governor of Pennsylvania in 1835. Tendered by President Van Buren, 1837, a seat in his Cabinet as Secretary of the Navy, also the mission to Russia, both of which he was obliged to decline. Appointed Minister to Austria in 1838, from which he returned December, 1840, having been recalled at his own request. On March 6, 1844, again nominated for Governor of Pennsylvania, but his sudden death prevented his election to that high office. He married 1st, 1805, Mary Elizabeth Hiester, a sister of his 2d wife, b. 1784; d. March 21, 1806; a daughter of Governor Joseph Hiester.

Genealogy of Governor Hiester:

1. His father, John Hiester, b. 1707; d. 1757; married, 1750, Mary Barbara Epler, b. 1732; d. 1809.

2. His grandfather, John Hiester. His father, John, came to America in 1732, from the village of Elsoff, Westphalia, Germany.

Governor Joseph Hiester was born November 18, 1752; d. June 10, 1832; married 1771, Elizabeth Witman, b. April 2, 1750; d. June 11, 1825. They had one son, John S. Hiester, and two daughters, Mary Elizabeth and Rebecca, wives of Henry A. Muhlenberg; also daughter Catharine, wife of Hon. John Spayd, and daughter Elizabeth, wife of Levi Pauling. He (Governor Hiester) was a distinguished citizen, patriot and official. His early days were spent on his father's farm in Bern township, Berks Co., Pa.; later he entered the store of Adam Witman, Reading, Pa., whose daughter, Elizabeth, he married. He raised a company of eighty men at Reading about June, 1776, which became a part of the "Flying Camp," and with it participated in the Battle of Long Island, where he was taken prisoner, confined on the notorious prison-ship "Jersey" for a time and later imprisoned in New York, where he was taken sick with fever and suffered many hardships until exchanged. Having recuperated his health, for a short time, in Reading, he rejoined the army in time to take part in the Battle of Germantown, where he was wounded in the head. He served until the close of the war. After his return he entered into partnership with his father-in-law in the mercantile business. He was a member of the General Assembly from Berks county, 1787-90, during which time that body ratified the Constitution of the United States; State Senator 1790-94; in 1797 he succeeded his cousin, Daniel Hiester, as Member of Congress from Berks county and served 1797-1807; again sent to Congress 1815 and re-elected twice. In 1817, nominee of the Federalist party for Governor, but not elected; again nominated 1820 and elected—the first successful candidate of his party. His remains were first interred in the burying ground of the Reformed Church, Reading, and later removed, with those of his wife, to the Charles Evans Cemetery.

She was born in the City of Philadelphia, where her father then preached in St. Michael's German Lutheran Church, and baptized shortly after her birth, her sister and brother-in-law Rev. C. E. Shulze being sponsors. She was confirmed a Lutheran by her father in her fourteenth year. She was married to Mr. Richards by her father, whilst she still lacked two months of being sixteen years old, he then being feeble, and, in anticipation, no doubt, of his early decease, being well pleased to see her so well suited and settled with a worthy husband before his death. She died in her husband's home on 5th Street, Reading, Pa., having been confined to bed but three days. Her son

John William was with her, also her daughter Margaret, and their cousins Hetty and Maria Hiester. Her disease was lingering and complicated, aggravated by the death of her two grown sons within the short space of four months. She was aged 60 years, 8 months, and at first interred beside her husband in the Lutheran graveyard at 6th and Walnut Streets, Reading, but in 1850 removed with him and the other bodies to Charles Evans Cemetery where she now rests in the lot of her son Matthias S., adjoining that of her other son John William. At her funeral, which was very large, the Rev. William Pauli, of the German Reformed Church, officiated in the place of her own pastor, Rev. H. A. Muhlenberg, who, as the nephew, was amongst the mourners. He preached a good German funeral sermon from Isaiah 3:10—"Prediget von den Gerechten, dass sie es gut haben: denn sie werden die Frucht ihrer Werke essen."

"As a friend she was sincere in her attachments; as a neighbor she was kind and affable, ever ready to relieve the afflicted, to succor the distressed, to minister to the sick and to comfort the bereaved. As a child, a sister and a wife, few, perhaps, have excelled her in filial affection, in sisterly love and in exercising all the duties necessary to constitute an affectionate and faithful 'helpmate'; as a mother, words can not express her qualities nor describe her."

Matthias Richards, b. February 26, 1758; bap. April 16, 1758; d. August 4, 1830. He was born on the "Old Place" in Falkner Swamp, Montgomery county, Pa. He was seventeen years old when his father died, March 28, 1875. On May 1, 1774, he was duly confirmed a member of the Evangelical Lutheran Church. His father was very wealthy at the time of his death, but Matthias did not profit from his wealth as did most the others. The elder brothers received the land, the rest of the heirs being paid their shares in depreciated Continental currency. The story is that Matthias invested his money in a black horse, but the currency depreciated so rapidly that an unpaid balance remained which his brothers generously made up for him. One of the sons-in-law, Dr. Beitenman, a physician, being of a jovial turn, invested his wife's patrimony in a bowl of punch, then took a fresh start in life and acquired a fair competency. About one year after his father's death Matthias went to Reading, Pa., where he was apprenticed to Mr. John Rightmyer to learn the trade of a saddler. In 1777, when the British came up the Chesapeake Bay and threatened Philadelphia, all the battalions of the Berks County Militia were ordered to hold themselves in readiness for active duty. In the early part of August the 1st Battalion, Colonel Daniel Hunter, and 2d Battalion, Colonel Daniel Udree were ordered to join Washington's Army at the front. Mr. Rightmyer was drafted into service and commissioned as a captain in the 2d Battalion. Matthias, though not drafted himself, volunteered as a substitute for some person who had been, and became a private in Colonel Daniel Udree's 2d Battalion. With it he participated in the Battle of Brandywine and probably also the Battle of Germantown, serving, most likely, until the Continental Army went into Camp at Valley Forge when the Militia were discharged. On April 18, 1780, he married his first wife, Maria Missimer, b. April 27, 1759, a sister of Henry Missimer of Pottstown, Pa. He then moved on the Swamp Road (known as Old Philadelphia Road), leading from Reading to Philadelphia, just in Montgomery county, one-half mile below Boyertown, where the line divides it from Berks county. There he kept tavern (then a most reputable business); also farmed and followed his trade of saddler. Shortly after his first marriage, in 1780, he was elected Major of the 4th Battalion, Philadelphia County Militia, of which Anthony Bitting was Lieutenant-Colonel. He lived with his wife only a little over one year when she died August 20, 1781, in giving birth to a son, their only child, who died eight days afterwards. She was buried in the Falkner Swamp Lutheran graveyard. May 8, 1782, he married his second wife, Maria Salome Muhlenberg. After being appointed Justice of the Peace for Berks county, he moved into that county. This appointment was quite an honor at that day (1788) when, under the Constitution of 1776, the Justice also officiated as a Judge of the county, and especially honorable because the office generally sought the man, and not the man the office. He then gave up all his former business except that of farming. He also commenced storekeeping with his brother Peter, and afterwards carried it on alone. In addition he followed scrivenering. Considering the limited facilities for education which were then enjoyed by persons situated as himself he may be properly called a "self-made man." He learned English, behind the plow, taking with him a spelling-book and dictionary, and studying when his horses rested. Yet he became very proficient both in English and German, and was well acquainted with literature in general, standing preëminent among the men of his day. He served as Justice of the Peace for forty years, at various times together; also was Associate Judge of the Berks County Courts, 1791-97. Appointed Inspector of Customs (unsolicited) under Tench Coxe and General Peter Muhlenberg, 1801-02, he moved to Reading, where he opened a dry-goods and grocery store. Member of Congress for the counties of Berks, Lancaster, etc., 1807, reëlected, 1809-11. In 1812 appointed Collector of Revenue by President Madison; in 1823 appointed Clerk of the Orphans' Court for Berks county by his intimate friend, Governor Joseph Hiester; after that appointed Associate Judge of the Courts for Berks county by Governor John Andrew Shulze. Like all of his family he was a faithful and true Lutheran, and Trustee of Trinity Lutheran Church, Reading, Pa. The duties of his many positions of honor and trust were invariably performed with unswerving fidelity. During his entire life he was very highly esteemed for his strict integrity, business habits, kindness to others, warm friendship, sincere patriotism, mature judgment and holy walk. He was a genuine Christian, a most excellent and loving husband and father. Whilst a true patriot and sound Republican, he was never a tool for any party or man, his motto being "principles and not merely men."

He was the last of the 3d generation of the family. Rev. Jacob Miller, pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, preached a German sermon in the church from the text Proverbs, 14-32, latter part: "Der Gerechte ist auch in seinem Tode getrost."

He was licensed to preach as Candidate of Theology in the "German Evangelical Lutheran Ministerium of Pennsylvania and Adjacent States," being the same which his grandfather, Henry Melchior Muhlenberg, was instrumental in forming. At the meeting of the Ministerium of Pennsylvania, at Philadelphia, in 1843, he was elected its secretary and reëlected to the same office for the two succeeding terms, after which he could no longer constitutionally hold the office. On May 2, 1843, he preached the sermon, in English, from Psalm 78: 2-8, at the celebration of the centennial of Augustus Church, Trappe. He removed to Easton, Northampton county, Pa., and on November 16, 1845, preached his introductory sermon as pastor of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church to which he had been unanimously called. May 27, 1850, he was elected president of the venerable Ministerium of Pennsylvania, at its meeting held in Pottsville, and unanimously reëlected to the same office for the two following years. After having previously refused three times, on November 1, 1850, he finally accepted a call to Trinity Lutheran Church, Reading. He organized the Dorcas Society and thoroughly systematized all benevolent and mission operations in the church. His wife organized, April 18, 1852, the Infant Department of the Sunday-school. August 6, 1851, the degree of Doctor of Divinity was unexpectedly conferred upon him by the old-school Presbyterian institution, "Jefferson College." He removed, with his parents, to Easton, thence to Reading. He underwent various private instruction, attended the Reading Military Institute, under Col. Bachelder, later the Gettysburg battlefield historian, then he entered the High School, when started in 1852, graduating in its first class, July 3, 1856. From there he entered the Pennsylvania College at Gettysburg, Pa., from which he graduated with highest honors in 1860. After a short time engaged in teaching he entered the Theological Seminary of the Lutheran Church at Gettysburg, Pa., in advanced standing, in the fall of 1863, graduating in 1864, in time to apply for and receive ordination from the Ministerium of Pennsylvania, during its convention at Pottstown, Trinity week, 1864. Whilst a tutor in Pennsylvania College, in 1863, prior to his entering the Theological Seminary, the Rebels invaded the State. In conjunction with many of the students he enlisted in Co. A, 26th Emer. Regt., Penna. Vol., served actively and honorably throughout the Gettysburg campaign, participating in the battle of Gettysburg. Married June 14, 1866, Sarah Maginley McClean, b. December 1, 1841, daughter of Hon. Moses McClean, M. C., of Gettysburg, Pa., and wife, Hannah Mary (born McConaughy). In 1868 he was elected Professor of English and Latin in Muhlenberg College and removed to Allentown. There he remained until the spring of 1874 when he accepted a call as pastor of a

Lutheran congregation at Indianapolis, Ind. During the greater part of his connection with the College (1868-74) he was also pastor of Grace Lutheran Church at Phillipsburg, N. J., which he organized, built up, housed and left in a condition to sustain its own pastor. During his pastorate at Indianapolis he effected the successful transfer of the congregation to a new location and built thereon a neat chapel, besides laying the foundation for a church. He remained there until January, 1877, when he accepted an urgent call to his former position in Muhlenberg College. His return brought that institution the ripe scholarship of a man whose whole life had been given to study and teaching. Besides his manifold duties as professor he undertook to resuscitate and carry along Trinity congregation at Catasauqua until it was able to support a pastor of its own. After being relieved of these duties he supplied the pulpit of Grace English Church, Bethlehem, during the fatal sickness of its pastor, the Rev. Jacob B. Roth. After this he confined himself more particularly to his college work, though still aiding his ministerial brethren as needed and requested. Whilst nominally Professor of the English Language and Literature he has taught, at one time or another, everything in the college course except the natural sciences. After his return in 1877 he had charge more particularly of English language and literature, rhetoric, logic, social sciences, psychology and some Latin, with all the drill work in composition, declamation, orations and debates. He was Secretary of the Faculty, 1886-1898. Besides his work in the College he gave the public schools of Allentown the benefit of his experience in educational affairs. He was elected a director 1879, the next year a member of the Central Board of Control; in 1883 Secretary of the Board. The vast amount of literary work done by him is difficult to realize. From 1880 he ably edited the Church Lesson Leaves and The Helper, for the use of Lutheran Sunday-schools and, from 1884, regularly furnished an editorial article each week for The Lutheran, the weekly Lutheran periodical. For several years he aided in editing and publishing the Church Messenger. He wrote and delivered more than a score of lectures, popular and educational; prepared and read a number of poems and, besides, wrote numerous articles for the Gettysburg Quarterly and Lutheran Church Review. He published a catechism for little ones consisting of an arrangement of "Luther's Small Catechism," in short answers suggested by easy questions and entitled "The Beginner's Catechism." June, 1889, the twenty-fifth anniversary of his entrance into the ministry, his alma mater, Pennsylvania College, conferred upon him the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity.

the High School, June 30, 1860, at the head of all the male applicants, graduating from the same in 1864. June, 1863, he enlisted as a private (doing duty as drummer) in Co. A, 26th Emer. Regt., Penna. Vols., and served through the Gettysburg campaign, participating in the battle of Gettysburg. In disguise, he and his brother penetrated into the midst of Early's Corps of the Confederate Army and were the first to give notice of their retrograde movement from Harrisburg towards Gettysburg. He re-enlisted July 10, 1864, as private in Co. A, 195th Regt., Penna. Vols., and served in West Virginia under Sheridan. July, 1865, he entered the U. S. Naval Academy at Newport, R. I. as a midshipman, graduating from the same, July, 1869, at Annapolis, Md. During this time he ranked at the head of his classes each year (never falling below number 3) and graduated a "star" pupil (the highest honor), when he was publicly complimented by Admiral D. D. Porter and given his diploma by General U. S. Grant. In 1866 he made a cruise along the coast of the United States on the U. S. S. Macedonian; in 1867, on the U. S. S. Savannah he made a cruise to Europe and participated in the great naval ovation to the Empress Eugenie at Cherbourg, France; in 1868 he cruised among the islands on the west coast of Africa on the U. S. S. Savannah having previously visited the Military Academy at West Point; during 1869-70-71, on the U. S. S. Juniata and U. S. Flagship Franklin he was attached to the European Squadron and was actively engaged in connection with the Franco-German War, the Carlist Insurrection, the Communistic Outbreak and a threatened uprising against the Christians in Tunis, Africa.

He was married December 26, 1871, to Ella Van Leer, b. November 8, 1848, daughter of Branson Van Leer and Drucilla Turner, on her paternal side a descendant of the German noble "von Loehr" family, and on her maternal side descended from the English families Washington, West, Gilpin, Pennington, etc., and through them from the old reigning families of England, France, the Holy Roman Empire and Scandinavia, the records remaining unbroken for 2,000 years.

On duty at the Torpedo Station, Newport, R. I., in 1872, at which he invented a circuit closing fuse, far superior to anything then in use, which was adopted by the Government. During 1873-1874 on the United States Ship Narragansett under Commander (now Admiral) George Dewey, he was on surveying duty in the Pacific Ocean, and the charts now in use of the peninsula of Lower California, the Gulf of California, the Mexican Coast, and various islands in the Pacific Ocean were mainly the result of his work. At this time occurred the "Virginius" difficulty with Spain when Commander Dewey asked to be ordered to attack Manila, in the Philippine Islands, in case of war. While at Panama a severe revolutionary outbreak took place when Lieutenant Richards volunteered for active service and was sent on shore in performance of same, which was of a dangerous character. He also volunteered for and was given charge of a hazardous boat expedition to Las Tres Marias Islands, and he saved the vessel from shipwreck on La Roca Partida of the Revillagigedo Group of Islands. To the regret of his commanding officer he decided to tender his resignation as an officer in the United States Navy to take effect January 1, 1875, to enable him to be more with his family as during ten years of service he had only been able to remain at home some six months in all. He then, eventually settled in Reading, Pa., and became connected with the iron business. During the labor riots of 1877, being at that time in the employ of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company, he assisted in organizing a company of Coal and Iron Police, composed of veteran soldiers, and served in the same during the continuance of the disturbances. He volunteered for service when a war with Chili was threatened in 1892, and again volunteered April, 1898, so soon as a war with Spain became evident. His services were accepted and he resumed his position of a Lieutenant (Senior) in the United States Navy. He was immediately ordered on duty and served during the entire war at the front as Executive officer of the United States Ship Supply, one of the large trans-Atlantic passenger steamers of the International S. S. Co. (American Line) fitted out by the government as an auxiliary cruiser and supply ship. He was at Guantanamo Bay, off Santiago, with the Cristobal Colon at the Jacuro Anchorage, on the blockades of Manzanillo and Cienfuegos, at the Isle of Pines, on the blockade off Bahia Honda, Cabañas, Muriel, Havana (during the last engagement of the War), Matanzas, Cardenas and at San Juan and Palominos Island off Porto Rico. He reached Gibara, Cuba, upon the cessation of hostilities, just as the only remaining Spanish man-of-war had entered (the Infanta Isabella) and anchored beside her. He was probably the first United States Naval officer to exchange friendly greetings over the close of the war with a free Spanish naval officer. Some months after the war he was given his honorable discharge with the thanks of the government.

On June 28, 1893, Mr. Richards was appointed by Governor Pattison a member of the commission to locate the forts of Pennsylvania used for defense against the Indians prior to 1783. His able and exhaustive report on the "Frontier Forts of the Blue Range" was ordered printed by the Legislature. He is the author of various magazine articles, historical papers, genealogies, etc. Lieutenant Richards is a member of the following societies: Pennsylvania-German Society, Secretary; Sons of the Revolution; Military Order of Foreign Wars, National Delegate; Naval Order of the U. S., Member of Council, Pennsylvania Commandery; Naval and Military Order of the Spanish-American War; Grand Army of the Republic, National Aide-de-Camp, etc.; Historical Society of Pennsylvania; Genealogical Society of Pennsylvania; Wyoming Historical and Geological Society of Pennsylvania; Historical Society of Montgomery County, Pa.; Historical Society of Berks County, Pa.; Historical Society of Lebanon County, Pa.; Naval Academy Graduates Association; Past Master, Masonic Fraternity.

He has been actively engaged in religious work in the Lutheran Church, that of his father's, for many years, and is prominently identified with its most important operations. Upon the consolidation of various large iron industries, September 1, 1899, into the American Iron and Steel Manufacturing Co., he was made its General Auditor and a member of its Board of Directors, which necessitated his removal to Lebanon, Pa., where the general office of the company is located. This is now his residence.
